

Coming together around partnering in healthcare

Patient partnership during COVID-19

Patient partners!

PAN's manifesto* for mobilizing the collective power of patients and families to transform healthcare has never been more important. Patients, their families and caregivers must be welcomed to help design, plan and deliver the COVID-19 pandemic response.

Questions of ethics and privacy, as well as many other concerns in combating COVID-19 are at the centre of urgent healthcare decision-making.

The needs and wants of patients, their family members and caregivers must be a priority every step of the way. Join fellow patient advisors in discussion to help healthcare leaders understand a better way forward, together.
